MARYVILLE, MISSOURI

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

March 20, 1970

TO THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF THE
NORTHWEST MISSOURI STATE COLLEGE:

The Northwest Missouri State College has been fortunate over the years in that we have been able to accommodate our burgeoning enrollment with expanded services, curricula, and programs. The campus itself has become a community that is almost self-sufficient. Approximately 2,700 students live on campus, all of whom are primarily engaged in the pursuit of learning. Nevertheless, this community of scholars requires many diverse services apart from instruction that involve intricate scheduling of time and energies. The many ancillary services required to maintain the students who are here is staggering. When we think of the community that is this college it is difficult to perceive all that contributes to it. What does it mean to you as a student and to the people of Missouri? This question is worthy of thought.

The students and faculty of this institution, in fact those involved in this entire academic community, are striving for excellence in education. I think we truly stand on the threshold of excellence. As we improve the quality of instruction, as the programs we offer our students are expanded or introduced, I feel we will continue to grow and continue to brighten the image this institution carries across the nation.

What is an academic community really like? Well, I suppose it would be possible to find as many academic communities in this country as we have colleges and universities. One thing that is unique about this institution is that there is a loyalty that is unusual on any college campus to be found here. The faculty and administrative staff alike are agreed that students are important and there is a demonstrated care shown for our students. I am convinced that the students know this and respond accordingly. It is true that we have many problems, many of which are very difficult and some of which will still be with us a generation from now. Further, we can anticipate many new ones. I think there is an honest and conscientious effort on the part of all concerned in this academic community to really face the issues and to solve them as they arise. I think if we are to be successful in the pursuit of learning we must manifest this type of response from our students and our faculty.

I have said many, many times that what makes an institution great is the people who are there, the faculty and the students. I think no other campus in the country can compare with the quality of the young men and young women who walk this campus and the faculty which serves them. It is my hope and desire that you will appreciate, after being a student on this campus, the degree to which the influence of this academic community will condition your values, your performance, and your attitudes for the remainder of your lives.

EMERITUS

March 17, 1970

Mrs. Erich Winters,
Editor, 1970 Tower

Dear Mrs. Winters:

In 1918 the college oath was officially adopted and it has served as a guidepost for the college ever since. The first part of the college oath deals with the responsibility of the individual in relation to college ethics; the second part deals with the promise to "transmit this college to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us." Over the years this has been done. It is the responsibility of each college generation to carry on this laudable program which calls for continued growth and development. Your 1970 Tower reflects what your generation has accomplished.

There is a third element that is not explicitly stated, but is the basic factor underlying the entire oath. It is that the total campus - its physical features and its human factors (students, faculty, administration) - is a place for learning, growth, and development of its personnel.

You and your staff are to be congratulated on your efforts to provide an adequate record of the college community. The 1970 Tower will be one more accomplishment in the full realization of your college oath.

Very truly yours,

J. W. Jones
President emeritus

Communication is fast becoming an issue of paramount importance in the United States. In order to facilitate that communication the Northwest Missouri State Debate Union has actively engaged in many debate tournaments throughout the entire country. Debating the national proposition "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Grant Annually a Specific Percentage of its Income Tax Revenue to the State Governments," the Union competed against competition representing the country's best universities throughout the entire year. Servicing as many as twelve students, Northwest Missouri State College entered into competition at such universities as Harvard, UCLA, Dartmouth, Emory, University of Illinois, and USC.

Pi Kappa Delta, the honorary forensics fraternity which serves the Union, initiated new members in its annual installation ceremonies in March. Co-sponsors of the organization are Mr. George Hinshaw and Mr. Greg Gardner.

Steve Cottrell rides in Morocco.

My experiment to Morocco this past summer was really an experience in understanding. I was placed in a totally new environment; new food, customs, language. I found that the family with whom I stayed became more than a group of people. They made me part of their family through daily contacts, teaching me the way to act a la Marocain and I forgot I was an American but a person first of all. I'm certain I left Morocco with a new attitude toward people in general and myself, too.

Ambassador Program Expands

Early one morning Alan Wagner bought melons.

Spending a summer in Ireland helped me to realize that the whole purpose of the Experiment in International Living is to build communication and understanding through an actual living experience. I learned to live, talk, and even think as they did. This helped me to understand their social, religious, and political views both past and present. I truly became a part of the people of Ireland, and they also became a very special part of me. As I left my home away from home, I received the Irish Blessing:

May the road rise up to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
And the rains fall soft upon your fields.
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand.

GWENDOLYN WALLACE

MSC Students Travel to Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Ireland, and Morocco

My summer in Greece as an Ambassador was memorable for many reasons. I have fond memories of the fun of travel and the thrill of seeing a foreign land. The ruins of an ancient civilization reminded me of the rich Greek heritage. Yet modern Greece told the story of an old country in a new world.

I have the memories of people. In travelling with a group of varied Americans, my concept of the U.S. was broadened.

My two Greek families readily accepted me into their homes as a son and brother. Communication and language difficulties often occurred but by the end of the summer I was sad to leave.

I have these memories, the friendship of many people, and a better understanding of the Greek way of life. And that is what the Experiment is based upon: friendship and understanding.

ALAN WAGNER

Barbara Hardy pauses to reflect upon Hans Christian Andersen.

The tours didn't show everything so Erich Winter broke out on his own.

The country of Hans Christian Andersen became my home for a short time last summer when I travelled as an MSC Ambassador to Denmark.

Being an Ambassador meant becoming a part of another culture as I experienced life with my Danish family. It meant touring the land of the Vikings and a visit to the city of Rebild, where the Danish hold their celebration of the United States' Independence Day. It meant a week-long stay in "wonderful Copenhagen."

Communication with my "second family" was not a major problem as my Danish father spoke English; hence, I found little need to use my 16-day predeparture course in the Danish language.

BARBARA HARDY

Flying high over England. Rapping with my parents and their friends now mine. Swimming with the Queen's Swans in the River Dee. Gorging myself with Lancashire hotpot and stout ale. Bummung about London. Understanding Wordsworth in his beautiful Lake Country, dead but still alive as these lives I have led.

Homecoming 1969 came soon for many this year; too soon for some and not soon enough for others. Success was the key word: Miss Cheryl Jackson succeeded in becoming Homecoming Queen for 1969; Phi Mus won the women's skit and house decoration competition; Delta Sigma Phi won the men's skit; Phi Sigma Epsilon won in the floats for men; Sigma Sigma Sigma won the trophy for best women's float; Delta Sigma Phi also won in the men's house decoration; Baptist Student Union won the trophy for best open house decoration; the Industrial Arts Club won the open division trophy for best float; and to top it all off the Bearcat football team won the game with the Bears of Southwest Missouri State College, leading all the way. Alumni and friends of the college visited and enjoyed the hospitality of a wild time at NWMSC's 1969 Homecoming.

Newman Club emphasizes Sunday folk mass celebrated by Father Lackamp. Our Thursday night meetings consist of one part meeting and three parts good times. The Seminarists from Conception Abbey contribute their time and effort to discuss various religious subjects with the students and help plan our Sunday Masses. One of the many fun times of Newman this year was the hayride and midnight mass at Conception Abbey with the Seminarists. The highlight of the year was the successful Christmas midnight mass held in the Charles Johnson Theater. This mass was open to the student body to partake in the religious spirit of the season. Members of Newman are adding and repairing many new things to the Newman House to make it more enjoyable to the students.

Under the direction of Ed Witham the BSU Good News Choir, composed of forty-five members, gave several performances. One performance was held in the Fine Arts Building of the College, while others were staged in Trenton and St. Joseph, Missouri. Many of the International students were sent with expenses paid by the BSU to the Annual International Retreat at Windermere, the Baptist State Camp where students meet from thirty colleges and universities. Other activities included first place winning of the Homecoming house decorations contest portraying "Jonah and the Whale," Bible study weekly, morning watch each Tuesday morning, vespers and a semiformal BSU spring banquet. Five members of the BSU attended the state convention in St. Louis. Youth-led revivals were many time conducted. Approximately $400 was raised for summer missions.

IF THE CHURCH IN OUR DAY HAS FEW PROPHETIC VOICES TO SOUND ABOVE THE NOISES OF
THE STREET, PERHAPS IN LARGE PART IT IS BECAUSE THE PIONEERING
SPIRIT HAS BECOME FOREIGN TO IT. IT SHOWS LITTLE WILL-
INGNESS TO EXPLORE NEW WAYS.
WHERE IT DOES IT HAS OFTEN BEEN CALLED AN EXPERIMENT,
BUT WHEREVER THE CHURCH
IS TRUE TO ITS MISSION IT
WILL BE EXPERIMENTING,
BLAZING NEW PATHS, SEEKING
HOW TO SPEAK THE RECON-
CILING WORD OF GOD
TO ITS OWN AGE.

Coach Ryland Milner and his team had a disappointing season this year, finishing with a 3-8-1 record. The team held fifth place in the MIAA. However, no glorious finish or high standing can fulfill the space left by hard and punishing labor to ready the cross-country's challenger. The long distance runner is different from all others and a bit to be looked to for insight.

We are sorry that due to circumstances we could not bring forth a single picture of this team and therefore extend our hope that these words, words though they may be, can make do for these men and their dedicated coach, Ryland Milner:
